

Individual and Society

Raahim Naeem
Zahra Hussain
Fayez Ali
Sophia Razzaq

Table of Contents

01

Personality

04

School as an agent

02

Socialization

05

Peer Group as an agent

03

Family as an agent

06

Mass Media as an agent

PERSONALITY

01

PERSONALITY

- Person's fairly consistent patterns of acting, thinking, and feeling.
- Personality traits are thought to be rooted in genetic and environmental factors.
- Influenced by cultural norms and values, leading to variations in how personality traits manifest across different cultures.
- It develops and evolve throughout the individual's lifespan.

George Herbert Mead's

Theory of the Social Self

The Self: Mead's central concept is the self, the part of an individual's personality composed of self-awareness and self-image. Mead's genius was in seeing the self as the product of social experience.

- First, the self is not there at birth; it develops
- Second, the self develops only with social experience, as the individual interacts with others
- Third, social experience is the exchange of symbols
- Fourth, seeking meaning leads people to imagine other people's intentions
- Fifth, understanding intention requires imagining the situation from the other's point of view.

02

WHAT IS SOCIALIZATION?

IMPACT OF SOCIALIZATION ON INDIVIDUAL

- Formation of Identity:
Socialization influences the development of individual identities by shaping how individuals perceive themselves and their place in society.
- Acquisition of Social Roles:
Individuals learn their roles and responsibilities within society through socialization.
- Internalization of Norms and Values:
Socialization instills societal norms, values, and beliefs in individuals, guiding their behavior and decision-making processes.
- Development of Social Skills:
It equips individuals with the necessary social skills to interact effectively with others.

EXAMPLE

INDIVIDUAL

SOCIETY

Family as an Agent

03

SOCIALIZATION IN FAMILY

- Factors that influence individual such as:
- Parenting styles: source of direct guidance, modeling behavior, and providing emotional support
 - Sibling relationships: source of teaching cooperation, conflict resolution, and sharing.
 - Cultural practices : provides sense of belonging, reinforce cultural heritage, and transmit ethical principles

“

“In fact, the socialization gives us the tools to fill our evolutionary roles. They are the building blocks.”

Warren Farrell

School as an Agent

04

School

- An educational institute
- Role begins when a child starts typically at age five or thereabouts
- Most people spend between 12 and 20 years in school, it is a major socialization process
- In addition to the formal curriculum, students are taught how to think critically and solve problems
- School is critical in the formation of response to authority, learning to work in groups, learning self discipline. These aspects are often referred to as the hidden curriculum

Socialization In School

1. Peer Interaction:

- Opportunities to interact with diverse peers.
- Learning social skills (communication, cooperation, conflict resolution).

2. Teacher Influence:

- Role modeling of behaviors and values.
- Instruction and guidance in social norms and rules.

3. School Rules and Norms:

- Adherence to rules, respect for authority.
- Internalization of societal norms and expectations.

4. Extracurricular Activities:

- Sports, clubs, arts programs.
 - Learning teamwork, leadership, and cooperation.
-
-

Peer Group as an Agent

05

Peer Groups

- Compose of individuals of roughly the same age and interests
- Engage in a give and take relationship
- Helps with self direction
- The older your peer group the more influence they have on your life

“

“Bad company ruins good morals.”

J.C. Raëem

Socialization in Peer groups

1. Peer Influence:

- Influence on attitudes, behaviors, beliefs.
- Learning social norms, values, and behaviors.

2. Identity Formation:

- Derivation of identity, belonging, self-esteem.
- Importance of peer acceptance and approval.

3. Social Support:

- Emotional support, companionship, solidarity.
- Friendship, advice, understanding during stress.

4. Conflict Resolution:

- Learning negotiation, compromise, resolution.
- Constructive conflict resolution skills development.

Mass Media as an Agent

Facebook, twitter, news ,
memes

06

WHAT IS MASS MEDIA

- Mass media: broad communication reaching large audiences (television, newspaper, tweets etc)
- Serves as an agent of socialization by transmitting cultural values, norms, and ideologies to individuals within a society
- Mass media exposes individuals to diverse information, shaping beliefs and attitudes
- Media shapes socialization through influential role models and idealized images, affecting self-perception and behavior

LETS UNDERSTAND THROUGH EXAMPLES

- Influences cultural values and norms.
Example: Social media campaigns promoting body positivity challenge societal beauty standards.
- Shapes perceptions and attitudes.
Example: News media coverage of climate change influences public opinion and environmental awareness.
- Facilitates information circulation.
Example: Online news articles and social media posts sharing COVID-19 updates contribute to public health awareness.
- Promotes social and political awareness.
Example: Hashtags like #BlackLivesMatter on social media raise awareness about racial injustice and promote activism.

CONCLUSION

Conclusion

- Personality and socialization are essential for personal and societal development.
- Family plays a primary role in transmitting norms, values, and cultural practices.
- School fosters learning, social integration, and formal education.
- Peer groups influence identity and behavior among similar-aged friends.
- Mass media impacts attitudes, values, and behavior through TV, internet, and social media.

Thanks
